This is my old bedroom.

There are some toys on my bed.

I like to read and play with my son in the bedroom.

I rank my bedroom with 3 stars.

At the end of each description, make your guess based on what you heard.

Additional Information 補充資料:

Igloo:

An igloo is a small house made of snow and ice. People from the Inuit(紐特人) culture, who live in very cold places like Alaska and Canada, used to build igloos. They were warm inside because snow is a good insulator(_____). In the past, igloos were used by hunters to stay safe from the cold during trips. Today, some Inuits still use them for special purposes, but most live in modern(_____) houses.

How do I guess/know the meaning of insulator ?
Which sentence gives me the idea?

Cave:

A cave is a natural hole in the ground or in mountains. Long ago, before people had houses, early humans used caves for shelter(_____). They protected(保護) people from(免於) the weather, wild animals, and enemies(敵人). Caves were also used for religious(宗教的) ceremonies(儀式) or as burial(葬墓) sites(場地). Today, people don't live in caves, but they are visited by explorers or tourists. Some caves are famous for their beautiful formations(地形) or ancient(古代的) art.

How do I guess/know the meaning of shelter ?
Which sentence gives me the idea?
